receive the old part within the aforementioned period, our offer to purchase the spare part is considered accepted and the invoice amount becomes due for payment immediately.

After we have inspected your old part and submitted a repair quotation, you can either order the repair or opt for a part exchange. In case of a repair order, we repair your old part according to the offer and return it to you, whereupon you immediately return the provided spare part to us at your own expense. In the case of a part exchange, you leave the old part to us permanently and keep the exchange part in return. We will repair the old part at your expense according to the offer and reuse it as a "refurbished part". In case of repair order or part exchange, you only pay the repair and, if applicable, shipping costs for the old part as well as, if applicable, the costs for the interim surrender of the replacement part according to the invoice. The invoice for the purchase of the spare part will be cancelled in case of repair order or parts exchange.

Claims arising from material defects and defects of title for the repair of the old part or the provision of the spare part shall become time-barred six months after acceptance or exercise of the exchange option; this shall not apply to claims based on injury to life, body or health, to claims based on intent and/or gross negligence and to claims based on the assumption of a guarantee. The longer limitation periods pursuant to § 438 para. 1 no. 1 BGB (rights in rem of a third party) and for fraudulent intent shall also remain unaffected.
