in goodwill exchange according to BST order no. ASO074642

IMPORTANT NOTE:

Unfortunately, warranty claims for the product no longer exist. However, as a gesture of goodwill, we will provide a replacement if the product was already defective at the time of transfer of risk. Unfortunately, we cannot be held responsible for defects and deficiencies that arose at a later date. In this case, we will be happy to make you an offer for repair or for a replacement product.

Please return to us the replaced old parts for inspection within 30 days using our RMA form at the customer's expense. If we identify an initial defect that would have entitled you to a warranty, the replacement part may remain with you if you wish [and we will credit you or refund you upon request for the confirmed cost of the return shipment]. The invoice amount of the exchange delivery will then [also] be credited as soon as you have declared that you will permanently leave the exchanged old part with us.

There is no warranty for parts provided solely for reasons of goodwill. This does not constitute a new warranty period.

If you do not return the old parts to us for inspection within the above period, the invoice amount for the replacement delivery shall become due for payment immediately. In this respect, we consider the purchase to be a purchase of spare parts.

Insofar as no initial defect is identified, we may demand reimbursement of the costs incurred (in particular inspection and transport costs). In this case, you can purchase the replacement part for the stated invoice amount; the warranty period is one year and begins with the agreement on the purchase of the replacement part. Upon request, we will also submit a repair offer to you.
